

Dear Madam or Sir:

I have just heard of the potential threat to the ability of satellite radio to broadcast information with local content, i.e. local traffic and weather. I pay for satellite radio and rely on it. Only someone with an inferior product would feel threatened by the competition. Let us encourage competition in this land made great by it, knowing it will elevate standards. May we never restrict free speech or free enterprise. We all know what is right. Let's do it. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Josef G. Venable, M.D.
